No. 6 – Dated 07/07/2026	8	03/07/2026	With reference to Section 3.4a – Educational and Professional Qualifications (Management), under the requirements for the Health & Safety Officer/PSCS, requirement (c) states that the proposed individual shall hold: “A recognised university degree (Level 8) in engineering or equivalent professional qualification.” Can the Contracting Authority please confirm whether a Level 8 Honours Degree in Occupational Safety and Health would be considered an equivalent professional qualification for the purposes of satisfying requirement (c), provided the individual also meets the requirements of clauses (a), (b) and (d)? Alternatively, is it the Contracting Authority's intention that the proposed Health & Safety Officer/PSCS must hold a Level 8 qualification specifically in engineering?	For the health and Safety Officer / PSCS, a Level 8 Honours Degree in Occupational Safety and Health would be considered an equivalent professional degree to satisfy requirement (c).	No.
