1 About the Contracting Authority

1.1 The Contracting Authority

Bord Bia (hereinafter referred to as the “Contracting Authority”) is the authority responsible for this procurement.

Bord Bia, the Irish Food Board, is the government agency responsible for the promotion of the food, drink, and horticulture industry, bringing Ireland’s outstanding produce to the world, thus enabling the growth and sustainability of our producers.

As a force for insight, reputation building and fostering an entrepreneurial and skills culture in the industry, we contribute to its sustainable growth at home and abroad.

With headquarters in Dublin, Bord Bia has a network of overseas offices in Amsterdam, Dubai, Dusseldorf, Lagos, London, Madrid, Milan, New York, Paris, Shanghai, Singapore, Stockholm, Tokyo, and Warsaw. More detailed information is available at www.bordbia.ie.

1.2 Small and Medium Enterprise participation

It is the policy of the Contracting Authority to promote participation by Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs) on a fair and equal basis.

SMEs are encouraged to explore the possibilities of forming relationships with other SMEs or with larger enterprises to meet the financial, economic or technical capacity requirements of the competition, if required.

Tenderers may include individuals, partnerships, limited companies, groupings or any combination of the foregoing with or without legal personality. However, a grouping if successful will be required to establish legal personality to enter the contract.

Tenderers are reminded that they may rely on the resources of other entities to establish the requirements on condition that they can prove to the satisfaction of the Contracting Authority that they will have these resources at their disposal when necessary.

If the tender is from a consortium / joint venture, tenderers must ensure that all the relevant information is provided and where necessary, provide the information requested separately for each party. Relevant information relates to where a tenderer is relying on the resources to qualify (e.g. turnover, manpower, previous experience) and or to deliver contracts. The consortium must appoint a single point of contact who will assume overall responsibility for delivery, and who is authorised to sign the contract on behalf of all consortia members. The Contracting Authority will not act as an arbitrator between members of consortia.

The successful tenderer will be required to combine primary and secondary research, stakeholder engagement, expert consultation, and strategic analysis to build on Bord Bia’s existing insight base, validate commercial relevance, assess Irish industry capability and readiness, and translate findings into a clear business case, capability and investment roadmap, actionable recommendations, and decision-ready outputs for senior leadership and industry audiences.

5.3 Post Tender Clarification

At the discretion of the Contracting Authority, tenderers may be invited, in writing, to clarify certain aspects of their tender, particularly where information or documentation to be submitted appears to be incomplete or erroneous. However, all such requests will be made in full compliance with the principles of equal treatment and transparency and avoid any distortion of competition.

5.4 Verification

Award of contract may be subject to attendance at a verification meeting. It would be essential that the key personnel assigned to this contract should be available and present at this meeting. If required, tenderers will be notified of the date, time, agenda and format for such meetings as soon as possible.

A visit to the tenderer's premises may be required to clarify any questions or queries regarding the tender offer.

5.5 Clarification of Abnormally Low Tenders

If the Contracting Authority considers the tender submission to be commercially unsustainable or otherwise problematic considering the tendered price or any other financial matter (including proposed indicative hours), the tenderer shall be invited to provide clarification to the Contracting Authority in respect of all elements of the tender submission that the Contracting Authority deems relevant. Any failure to satisfactorily comply with such a request, or to satisfactorily address the Contracting Authority's concerns, may, at the discretion of the Contracting Authority, result in the elimination of the tender in question based on it being considered abnormally low.

5.6 Right to Confirm Suitability

Tenderers should note that the Contracting Authority reserves the right to confirm that the financial and technical capacity of the tenderer is valid and unchanged prior to the award of any contract.

6 Instructions for Tenderers

6.1 Closing Date for Tenders

The closing date for tender submission is specified on the title page.

It is the responsibility of the tenderers to ensure that their tender is complete and is uploaded by the designated deadline. Tenders that are received late or via other means will not be considered in this public procurement competition.

It is important to note that only persons who have downloaded and accepted a document can upload a submission.

6.2 Submission of Tenders

The Contracting Authority is using the tender postbox facility, and tenders must be submitted electronically via the eTenders postbox facility on www.etenders.gov.ie only. Only tenders submitted to the electronic postbox will be accepted. Tenders submitted by any other means (including but not limited to by email, post or hand delivery) will not be accepted.

Tenderers must ensure that they give themselves enough time to upload and submit all required documentation before the closing date/time. Tenderers should consider the fact that upload speeds vary. There is a maximum of 2.14 GB for individual files sent to the electronic post-box and a one-hour limit for upload. In order to submit a document to the electronic post-box, please note that you must click "Submit Response". After submitting you can still modify and re-send your response up until response deadline. Tenderers should be aware that the 'Submit Response' button will be disabled automatically upon the expiration of the response deadline.

6.3 Queries

The closing date for submitting queries is specified on the title page.

All queries regarding this tender should be through the messaging facility on www.etenders.gov.ie, including any omissions which would prevent tenderers from submitting a comprehensive tender. Please submit queries as soon as possible.

In circulating responses, queries will be edited to avoid disclosing the identity of the querist and will be circulated to all parties who have expressed an interest in the procurement on the eTenders website.

6.4 Extension of the Tender Deadline

The Contracting Authority reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to extend the closing date for receipt of tenders by giving notice in writing (by post or electronic means) to all parties who have expressed an interest in the notice via eTenders no later than six days before the original closing date.

Tenderers will be responsible for any costs incurred by them in the event that they are required to attend clarification or other meetings or make a presentation of their proposals.

6.5 Tender Validity Period

To allow sufficient time for tender assessment a tender validity period of [9 months] is required, this period commencing on the closing date by which the Tenders are to be returned.

6.6 Discrepancies between Documents

A PDF version of the Request for Tender has been made available on eTenders. This document will be considered as the primary source document in this procurement process, word versions of documents where they are provided are being made available to assist tenderers in responding to the tender competition. Where there is a discrepancy between a pdf version and a word version, the pdf version will take precedence. Tenderers are requested to notify the Contracting Authority immediately of any anomaly. Where applicable the Contracting Authority will issue amended versions.

6.7 Formatting of Tenders / Amending Tender Documents

Tenderers must ensure they use the Tender Response Document (TRD) when preparing their submission.

Tenderers are prohibited from amending any text or content of forms or declarations or templates provided as part of this tender competition in their tender responses. Where amendments have been identified, the Contracting Authority may at its discretion eliminate the tenderer from further consideration. Likewise, failure to use the template documentation provided particularly in relation to costing / pricing may result in tenders being eliminated.

6.8 Collusive Tendering

If any tendering party is found to have, at any time, offered to give or to have agreed to offer or give to any person, any bribe, gift, gratuity, commission or consideration of any kind as an inducement or reward for taking or forbearing to take any action in relation to the obtaining of its tenders, or for showing or forbearing to show any favour or disfavour to any person in relation to its tenders, the bid submitted by such tendering party shall be automatically disqualified and the circumstances surrounding such action shall be referred to the appropriate authority.

6.9 Confidentiality

After the official opening of tenders, information relating to the examination, clarification, evaluation and comparison of Tenders and recommendations will not be disclosed to tenderers or other persons not officially concerned with such process until the award decision with the successful tenderer has been announced and in conformity with national laws.

Tenderers shall treat the details of all documents supplied to them in connection with this contract as private and confidential and shall not disclose the contents to a third party without the permission of the Contracting Authority.

Any effort by the tenderer to influence the Contracting Authority or their staff in the process of examination, clarification, evaluation and comparison of tenders and in decisions concerning the award of the contract may result in the rejection of that tender.

6.10 Clarification of Tenders

The Contracting Authority is entitled, but not obliged, to seek clarification of tenders, including pricing breakdowns in the course of the evaluation process. No change in the price or substance of the tender shall be sought, offered, or permitted. To assist in finalising the tender evaluation, selected tenderers may be invited to attend clarification meetings with the Contracting Authority.

6.11 Correction of errors

Detailed pricing of all tenders will be examined for errors that might alter the tender pricing as determined from the figures on the tender form or as between the hard copy and electronic versions of the tender (if applicable). In general, the following approach will be applied to manifest errors - where there is a discrepancy between the unit price and the total amount derived from the multiplication of the unit price and the quantity, the unit price as quoted will normally govern.

The amount stated in the tender form will be adjusted by the Contracting Authority in accordance with the above procedure and, with the agreement of the tenderer, shall be considered as binding upon the tenderer. Without prejudice to the above, a tenderer not accepting the correction of their tender as outlined may have their tender rejected.

Where the Total Quote function has been activated on eTenders and a discrepancy arises between the amount in the Total Quote box and the tender submission, the amount in the tender submission shall take precedence.

6.12 Change in the composition of a Tender

Where a change in composition of a tender arises, this must be notified in writing to the Contracting Authority and formally approved by them.

The Contracting Authority reserves the right, but is not obliged, to disqualify any tenderer that makes any change to its composition after submission of a tender.

6.13 Interference and Inducement to Purchase

Any effort by the tenderer to unduly influence the Contracting Authority, relevant agency personnel or any other relevant persons or bodies in the process of examination, clarification, evaluation and comparison of tenders and in decisions concerning the Award of Contract shall have their tender rejected. The presumptions (including as to any gift, consideration or advantage) and other provisions under the Criminal Justice Act 2018, and all other measures for the time being governing the subject-matter in any applicable jurisdiction, shall be applicable.

6.14 Conflict of Interest

Any conflict of interest involving a tenderer (or tenderers in the event of a consortium bid) must be fully disclosed to the Contracting Authority. Any registrable interest involving the tenderer and the Contracting Authority or employees of the Contracting Authority, or their relatives must be fully disclosed in the tender submission or should be communicated to the Contracting Authority immediately upon such information becoming known to the tenderer, in the event of this information only coming to their notice after the submission of a bid and prior to the award of the contract. Failure to disclose a conflict of interest may disqualify a tenderer or invalidate an award of contract, depending on when the conflict of interest comes to light.

6.15 Publicity

Tenderers shall not undertake (or permit to be undertaken) at any time, whether at this stage or after the award of the contract, any publicity activity with any section of the media in relation to this tender/agreement other than with the prior written consent of the Contracting Authority. Such consent shall extend to the content of any publicity. For the purposes of this paragraph, the word “media” includes (but is not limited to) radio, television, newspapers, trade and specialist press, the Internet and email, accessible by the public at large and the representatives of such media.

The Contracting Authority will have the right to publicise or otherwise disclose to any third-party information regarding this process and the agreement.

6.16 Right Not to Award

The Contracting Authority does not bind itself to accept the most economically advantageous tender or any tender. It also reserves the right to accept or reject in whole or in part any or all tenders received, and, in particular, to source the requirement with more than one service provider.

The Request for Tender is issued in good faith; however, the Contracting Authority at its sole discretion shall not be obliged to award a contract or proceed to further stages in the procurement process and reserves the right to cancel the procurement process.

6.17 Notification of Tender Evaluations

All tenderers will be informed of the outcome of their tenders following tender evaluation and any necessary clarifications.

Potential outcomes can be:

The following information will be provided in the Letter of Regret – name of successful tenderer designate; the applicable standstill period (for EU tenders only); scores of tenderer being notified and that of the successful tenderer; the features and characteristics of the successful tenderer where they scored higher marks in specific criteria.

In the case of EU tenders only, the Contracting Authority will undertake not to award the contract for a period of at least 14 (or whatever period is stated in the notification letters) days from the date of notification of unsuccessful tenderers (‘standstill period’).

6.18 Award Notices

Following the award of contract, an award notice will be dispatched to the Official Journal of the European Union announcing the results of the competition. It should be noted that it is standard practice for the Contracting Authority to include the price of the winning tender or the range of prices of tenders received in the publication of the award notice as required under European procurement rules.

6.19 Policy on Personal Debriefings

Based on the provision of the information to unsuccessful tenderers as outlined above and due to resourcing constraints, the Contracting Authority will not be offering individual debriefing meetings to unsuccessful bidders.

6.20 Copyright

The Contracting Authority will have copyright ownership of any material developed for use by the Contracting Authority under the terms of this tender. The service provider may have a non-exclusive license to use such material but only for its own purposes (to be agreed with the successful tenderer).

7 Appendix A – Detailed Specification

Background:

High-Level Objectives

The objective of this project is to develop a clear, evidence-based business case demonstrating the commercial importance of sustainable nutrition for the Irish food and drink sector.

The study should move beyond a broad sustainability assessment and examine the role that sustainable nutrition, particularly its nutrition and health dimension, can play in supporting future competitiveness, market access, resilience, and value creation across the Irish food and drink sector.

The study will establish the strategic and commercial relevance of sustainable nutrition, explicitly linking it to competitiveness, innovation, resilience, and evolving customer and market expectations.

In doing so, it will:

- Articulate Ireland's strategic rationale and credibility to compete in sustainable nutrition, building on its established leadership in agrifood sustainability.
- Assess how sustainable nutrition is influencing market demand, customer expectations, and competitive positioning in key domestic and international markets.
- Identify priority opportunities where Ireland can credibly compete and differentiate.
- Assess the current level of the Irish agrifood industry capability, maturity, and readiness to respond to emerging sustainable nutrition trends and opportunities.
- Define the capabilities, investments, partnerships, and actions required to support long-term success.
- Provide a robust business case quantifying the commercial opportunity, alongside the risks associated with inaction or delayed investment.

The output should deliver a foundational strategic assessment that directly informs Bord Bia's thinking on sustainable nutrition and provides clear guidance on future industry development, capability-building priorities, investment requirements, innovation opportunities, and long-term sector competitiveness.

Detailed Research Questions

The project will be underpinned by a structured set of research questions across five key areas:

1. Market and Policy Context

- How are global and EU consumer expectations evolving in relation to nutrition, health, sustainability, food equity, and sustainable food systems (e.g., healthy eating, functional foods, product nutrient density, preventative health, equitable access to nutritious food, and sustainable consumption)?
- What regulatory and policy developments (e.g., front-of-pack labelling, health and nutrition claims, nutrient profiling, green claims legislation, Farm to Fork, and broader EU food system policies) are likely to shape future market requirements and demand?
- What emerging health and nutrition science trends could shape future consumer, customer, regulatory, and innovation needs, including areas such as inflammation, obesity and metabolic health, the microbiome and gut-brain axis, mental wellbeing, cognition, and neurodevelopmental considerations?
- What emerging sustainability and agri-food innovation trends could shape future production, markets, regulation, and consumer demand, including regenerative agriculture, emissions reductions, nature fermentation, microbiome-based food systems, the circular bioeconomy, and antimicrobial resistance?
- How do accessibility, affordability, and value for money shape consumer and customer adoption of sustainable nutrition, and how are these factors understood across different markets, channels, and consumer groups?
- What are the implications, risks, and opportunities for the Irish food and drink sector, including how sustainable nutrition can support food equity and improved access to affordable, nutritious, and sustainably produced food?

2. Customer and Commercial Validation

- How are customer and buyer expectations evolving in relation to sustainable nutrition, and what role does nutrition play within these expectations (e.g., product reformulation, healthier portfolios, responsible marketing, and nutrition transparency)?
- To what extent does sustainable nutrition influence supplier selection, procurement decisions, product development priorities, and competitive advantage (e.g., retailer requirements, foodservice specifications, and ESG-related purchasing criteria)?
- How are leading companies and competitor markets leveraging sustainable nutrition to create value and differentiate in the marketplace (e.g., nutrient-dense products, health claims, functional ingredients, and science-backed consumer propositions)?
- What new or alternative distribution channels, commercial models, partnerships, or routes to market could improve accessibility and affordability while creating value for producers, customers, consumers, and the wider sector?
- What commercial risks and missed opportunities may arise from failing to align with emerging customer and market requirements?

3. Irish Industry Capability Assessment

- What is the current level of awareness, maturity, and readiness across Irish food and drink companies to incorporate sustainable nutrition into business, innovation, and commercial strategies?
- To what extent are companies currently leveraging nutrition and health attributes as part of their sustainability and value proposition (e.g., reformulation, fortification, portion guidance, healthier product development, and transparent nutrition communications)?
- What capability gaps, barriers, and enabling factors affect the sector's ability to respond to this opportunity (e.g., skills, investment, evidence, data, consumer understanding, regulatory knowledge, and access to nutrition expertise)?
- What support, skills, partnerships, and resources will be required to accelerate adoption and implementation (e.g., research partnerships, training programmes, nutrition advisory services, and innovation supports)?
- What types and levels of marketing investment might be needed to help drive consumer understanding and demand for products that deliver sustainable nutrition?

4. Strategic Positioning and Business Opportunity

- How can Ireland leverage its leadership in agrifood sustainability to establish a distinctive and credible position in sustainable nutrition?
- Where does Ireland have the greatest opportunity to compete and differentiate through sustainable nutrition in domestic and international markets (e.g., dairy, ingredients, infant nutrition, consumer foods, foodservice, and health-focused product segments)?
- How is the nutrition and health dimension of sustainable nutrition currently being used to create commercial value, market access, and competitive advantage (e.g., premium positioning, retailer engagement, health claims, innovation platforms, and brand differentiation)?
- What is the scale of the opportunity for the Irish food and drink sector, including implications for export growth, customer acquisition, innovation, and value creation?
- What are the strategic and commercial risks associated with inaction (e.g., reduced competitiveness, loss of market access, weaker customer relevance, and missed value-added growth opportunities)?

5. Future Industry Development and Investment Requirements

- What capabilities, infrastructure, expertise, and partnerships must be strengthened across the Irish food and drink sector to support future growth in sustainable nutrition (e.g., nutrition science, reformulation capability, consumer insight, product innovation, data systems, and evidence generation)?

- How can engagement with dietetics, alongside nutrition, support evidence-based sustainable nutrition, tackle misinformation, and strengthen industry and consumer outcomes through practical expertise in planetary health, sustainable diets, food waste reduction, and resource optimisation?
- What role should industry, research organisations, government agencies, and Bord Bia play in enabling sector development (e.g., capability building, market development, thought leadership, research funding, and stakeholder collaboration)?
- What investments will be required in the short, medium, and long term to build competitiveness and capture the opportunity (e.g., talent, R&D, innovation programmes, technology, research, and commercial activation)?
- What priority actions should be taken to position Ireland for long-term success in sustainable nutrition?

Workstream Approach and Methodology

Tenderers are expected to propose a structured and proportionate methodology combining primary and secondary research, stakeholder engagement, expert consultation, and strategic analysis. The approach must demonstrate analytical rigour, commercial relevance, and scientific credibility, while maintaining a clear focus on the role of sustainable nutrition and particularly its nutrition and health dimension in driving future competitiveness, market access, innovation, and resilience across the Irish food and drink sector.

Tenderers should demonstrate how their approach will advance Bord Bia's strategic thinking by building on Bord Bia's existing insight base, including relevant sustainable nutrition research, consumer and market insights, sustainability programmes, and strategic frameworks. Tenderers should clearly identify where further evidence, interpretation, challenge, or validation is required.

The methodology should demonstrate how evidence will be translated into actionable strategic insight for Bord Bia and the Irish food and drink sector, including clear implications for:

- Competitiveness and differentiation
- Market access and customer relevance
- Industry capability development
- Innovation and product development priorities
- Investment requirements
- Commercial value creation
- Long-term sector resilience

While all components below are important, the primary focus of the project should be on Section 3: Irish Industry Capability Assessment, Section 4: Strategic Positioning and Business Case Development and Section 5: Capability and Investment Roadmap as outlined below.

Tenderers should demonstrate familiarity with, and build upon where relevant, existing Bord Bia research, frameworks, programmes, and insight platforms, including:

Bord Bia has undertaken an existing comprehensive body of work in the area of sustainable nutrition, which is summarised below. This will be available to the successful tender applicant:

- Commissioned multi-year research projects such as the Sustainable Nutrition Barometer (now in its third year), which tracks changing consumer and B2B behaviour focused on sustainability and nutrition. This has involved conducting large-scale consumer quantitative studies across multiple markets (including Ireland, UK, Germany, France, The Netherlands, USA, China, and Japan) to understand consumer and customer viewpoints and behaviours around sustainable nutrition. With the research supported by desk research reviewing over 40 published pieces of research relevant to sustainable nutrition. This has resulted in research findings on specific themes such as the adoption of regenerative agriculture, development of plant and animal protein, importance of food security, emergence of natural nutrition, impact of weight loss medicines, the role of technology and AI in food choices, and category-specific understanding across multiple food and drink sectors
- Bord Bia Culture Hub s is a consumer and cultural insights platform that combines research, ethnography and trend analysis to help the Irish food and drink industry better understand evolving consumer attitudes, particularly around sustainability, health and food choices.
- Research exploring specialised nutrition in Asian markets, particularly Japan, and examining the dynamics of sustainable nutrition in Asia as part of their broader research agenda.
- In addition, Bord Bia is currently completing global B2B research on sustainable nutrition.

The project methodology workstream components below are indicative. Tenderers may refine or propose alternative approaches, provided alignment with the project objectives is clearly demonstrated.

1. Market, Consumer and Policy Context

Tenderers should outline how they will:

- Synthesise existing data sources (including Bord Bia assets, commercial datasets, and published research).
- Analyse global and EU consumer trends relating to nutrition, health, sustainability, and sustainable food systems (e.g., healthy eating, preventative health, functional foods, and sustainable consumption).

- Assess how the nutrition and health dimension of sustainable nutrition is influencing consumer behaviour, purchasing decisions, and value creation. Within this outline the role of social media and influencers in shaping consumer nutrition perceptions, purchasing decisions, and industry reformulation priorities.
- Examine relevant regulatory and policy developments (e.g., front-of-pack labelling, health and nutrition claims, nutrient profiling, green claims legislation, Farm to Fork, and wider EU food system policies).
- Benchmark Ireland against relevant international markets and competitor countries.
- Incorporate input from nutrition, health, policy, and market experts where appropriate.

This component should establish a robust external context for the strategic and commercial assessment.

2. Customer Insight and Commercial Validation

Tenderers should demonstrate how they will:

- Engage with a targeted sample of customers across retail, foodservice, ingredient, manufacturing, and B2B channels.
- Assess evolving customer expectations in relation to sustainable nutrition and the role nutrition plays within broader sustainability requirements.
- Understand the extent to which sustainable nutrition influences sourcing decisions, supplier selection, procurement policies, and category strategies.
- Identify examples of how customers and leading companies are leveraging sustainable nutrition to create value and differentiation.
- Assess the commercial risks and potential opportunity costs associated with failing to respond to emerging customer requirements.
- Apply a structured and proportionate engagement approach (e.g., interviews, workshops, surveys, or equivalent methods).

This component should validate the commercial relevance and demand-side drivers underpinning the business case.

3. Irish Industry Capability Assessment

Tenderers should outline their approach to:

- Engaging with a representative sample of Irish food, drink and horticulture companies.
- Assessing current levels of awareness, maturity, and readiness in relation to sustainable nutrition.

- Evaluating current Irish food, drink and horticulture sector organisational capabilities relating to product reformulation, health and nutrition claims, nutrition science, consumer communications, and innovation.
- Identifying future capability requirements and support needs across the Irish food, drink and horticulture sector.

This component should provide a clear evidence-based assessment of sector readiness and future capability requirements and should represent a major focus of the project.

- Quantify the scale of the commercial opportunity, including implications for competitiveness, innovation, customer acquisition, export growth, and value creation.
- Assess the strategic and commercial risks of delayed action or inaction.
- Use practical directional case studies, drawing on relevant domestic and international best practice, to illustrate opportunities, success factors, and tangible examples from primary Irish food sectors such as dairy, meat, and horticulture.

This component should deliver a compelling strategic rationale and evidence-based business case to inform future decision-making and investment priorities.

5. Capability and Investment Roadmap

Tenderers should describe how they will:

- Develop a high-level roadmap outlining future capability, investment, and development priorities for the sector.
- Identify priority capability areas (e.g., nutrition expertise, reformulation capability, nutrition communications, health claims, consumer insight, research and development, and innovation).
- Consider the roles of industry, research organisations, government agencies, and Bord Bia in supporting implementation.
- Identify enabling conditions required for success (e.g., partnerships, skills development, research investment, stakeholder collaboration, and evidence generation).
- Outline short-, medium-, and long-term investment priorities.

The roadmap should remain strategic and directional, providing a practical framework for future Irish food, drink and horticulture sector development.

6. Final Reporting and Presentation

Tenderers should outline how they will:

- Produce clear, high-quality outputs suitable for senior leadership and industry audiences.
