Conflict of Interest

"Conflict of Interest" are defined in Regulation 24(2) of the European Union (Award of Public Authority Contracts) Regulations 2016 to include "any situation where a relevant staff member has directly or indirectly a financial, economic or other personal interest which might be perceived to compromise his or her impartiality and independence in the context of the procurement procedure". By Regulation 24(1), contracting authorities are obliged to take appropriate measures to effectively prevent, identify and remedy conflicts of interest arising in the conduct of procurement procedures. To facilitate its compliance with Regulation 24(1).

It is important to note that it is not necessary that a person's impartiality and independence are actually compromised; a conflict of interest will arise where a person's impartiality and independence are merely perceived to be comprised. Examples of conflicts of interest include: (This is not an exhaustive list)

- Having a financial interest (e.g. holding shares or options) in a tenderer or any entity involved in any tendering consortium
- Having a financial, economic or other personal interest in the outcome of the evaluation of any tender evaluation process
- Being employed by (as staff member or volunteer) or providing services to any tenderer

- Being a member of a tenderer's management/executive board
- Receiving any kind of monetary payment or non-monetary gift or incentive from any tenderer or its representatives
- Canvassing, or negotiating with, any person with a view to entering into any of the arrangements outlined above
- Having a close member of your family (which term includes unmarried partners) or personal friends who falls into any of the categories outlined above
- Having any other close relationship (current or historical) with any tenderer (It is important to note in this regard that a person's previous relationship with a tenderer which ended badly could be perceived by that tenderer to affect that person's impartiality.)

It is important to emphasise that conflicts of interest are not limited to the examples above and that in considering whether or not there are circumstances which might give rise to a conflict of interest it is not sufficient simply to consider those examples; rather it is necessary to consider whether circumstances exist which could be perceived to compromise your impartiality and independence in the context of the procurement procedure.

It is your responsibility to ensure that any and all potential conflicts of interest are disclosed to the Tipperary ETB (in writing prior to you becoming involved in the tender evaluation process. The Contracting Authority shall not permit a person to participate in a procurement procedure if that person has a conflict of interest within the meaning of Regulation 24(2) which cannot be remedied. Decisions in respect of conflicts of interest shall be made by the Contracting Authority.
