Title: Call for Tender for the Provision of Advisory and Training Services in Artificial Intelligence, Data Privacy and Business Continuity

Description: BIM wishes to invite tenders for Call for Tender for the provision of Advisory and Training Services in Artificial Intelligence, Data Privacy and Business Continuity. The rapid evolution of technology, increasingly complex regulatory requirements, and the heightened need for organizational resilience have created a demand for specialized expertise and up-to-date training within BIM. To address these needs, BIM is seeking to engage qualified and experienced service providers to deliver Advisory and Training Services in three critical areas: • Artificial Intelligence (AI) — to guide the responsible adoption and integration of AI technologies, ensuring that our teams are equipped with the knowledge and skills to leverage AI effectively and ethically. • Data Privacy — to strengthen our compliance with data protection laws and to embed a robust data privacy culture across all levels of the organization. • Business Continuity — to enhance our preparedness and capability to respond to unexpected disruptions, ensuring continuity of operations and services. Through this tender, BIM aim to secure a trusted partner who can provide strategic advice, practical solutions, and targeted training, empowering our staff and management to operate confidently in a rapidly changing environment. For further information on this tender, please refer to the accompanying tender documents.
