Title: Tender for Separation Science Suite

Description: Over the last decade the PMBRC have built up significant expertise in the chromatography used in the pharmaceutical, medical device, food and engineering industries. Typical projects involve research on drug product formulation, drug dissolution studies, polymorphism, impurities, and leachable and extractables. The PMBRC is now seeking to purchase a new Separation Science Suite. This suite will be composed of two pieces of equipment, namely a High-Performance Liquid Chromatography system (HPLC) and a Gas Chromatography system (GC). Technical details of the equipment are provided in Section E. The two pieces of equipment must be supplied by the same tenderer. The duration of the contract is two years, including the transport, installation and technical maintenance of both devices for this period.
